CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS ANNOUNCEMENT OF Important New Illustrated Books.

MY VILLAGE.

By E. Boyd Smith. 12mo, $2.00.

A vivid, sympathetic picture of French peasant life. Mr. Smith spent many years in the village he calls Valombre and lived there the life of the peasants themselves. He describes most charmingly with pen and pencil the many picturesque types of character that abound, the fetes, occupations, and daily incidents, the varied round of comedy and tragedy that make up the peasant's calendar.

THE LAST QUARTER-CENTURY IN THE UNITED STATES.

1870-1895. By E. Benjamin Andrews, President of Brown University. 2 vols., 8vo, $6.00.

President Andrews' work is absolutely unique. Never before have the many history-making events of this period been gathered together in a historical narrative by a competent hand. The illustrations, prepared at a great expense, are remarkable for their combination of artistic charm with absolute historical accuracy. Since its publication in SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE the history has been thoroughly revised and increased in size, almost one-half.

IN OLE VIRGINIA.

By Thomas Nelson Page. 12mo, $2.50.

This handsome volume contains Mr. Page's famous stories of Southern life—"Marse Chan," "Meh Lady," "Polly," "Unc' Edinburg," "Ole Stracted," and "No Haid Pawn"—with many beautiful illustrations by artists selected in each case for their peculiar fitness to treat the stories assigned them. The illustrations are as notable for the exquisitely sympathetic manner in which they reflect the spirit of the text, as for their charming artistic qualities.

THE EDGE OF THE ORIENT.

By Robert Howard Russell. 12mo, $2.00.

The account of an interesting trip along the picturesque coast of Dalmatia and Montenegro, an unfamiliar field of travel, and continuing through Constantinople and the Eastern coast of Asia Minor to Cairo and the Nile. Mr. Russell brings to the study and portrayal of the scenes and types of these Eastern localities a fresh eye, a contagious enthusiasm, and a graphic and picturesque style.

ON THE TRAIL OF DON QUIXOTE.

By August F. Jaccaci. 12mo. In press.

The volume is in a sense the outgrowth of a long friendship between the artist, who was born and bred a Spaniard, and the author, who is familiar from boyhood and from recent travel with the province of La Mancha. The book is in no sense an attempt to follow Don Quixote's wanderings in detail, but its plan is to describe Don Quixote's country as it is to-day, with incidental allusions to such scenes as are acknowledged and easily recognizable.

The Century takes its place at the head of periodical literature. CHICAGO JOURNAL.

THE CENTURY

IN 1897.

The coming year will be one of extraordinary interest for readers of THE CENTURY. There are to be many novel and timely features and several strong serials. Some of the attractions are:

Campaigning With Grant, BY GENERAL HORACE PORTER.

A remarkable series of papers by the man who was closest to General Grant. Pen-pictures of Grant as a man and a soldier, and of campaign life and scenes. Full of anecdote and humor; richly illustrated. Begins in November.

"Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker," BY DR. S. WEIR MITCHELL.

A Great American Romance of the Revolution.

Illustrated by Howard Pyle.

This powerful novel, Dr. Mitchell's masterpiece, is a strong study of the American Revolution and of Philadelphia society from 1753 to 1783. Washington, Franklin, Lafayette, Benedict Arnold and Andre figure in the story, and the hero serves on General Washington's staff. Begins in November.

"A Rose of Yesterday," BY F. MARION CRAWFORD.

A romance of modern Italy with American characters. One of the most charming of all Mr. Crawford's stories. It will begin in November and run for six months, and will be followed by another novelette.

DO NOT MISS THE NOVEMBER NUMBER.

It contains a great table of contents, including first chapters of all the above serials, and among its attractive articles is one, with striking illustrations, describing

"Election Day in New York."
